

Mary S. Shook Student Health Service

APPALACHIAN STATE UNIVERSITY

614 Howard Street ~ PO Box 32070 ~ Boone, NC 28608-2070
Office: (828) 262-3100 ~ Fax: (828) 262-6958

June 2015

Medical Excuses

Thank you for asking about a written medical excuse from Student health Service.

The clinic does not write medical excuses for students who miss class. This is based on the Faculty Handbook 2014 and the Undergraduate Bulletin for 2014-15 (see below)

Respectfully,

Robert S. Ellison, M.D. MPH
Director, Mary S. Shook Health Services
Appalachian State University

Official university policy:

The Student Health Services DOES NOT write medical excuses for students who miss a class for illness or injury. However, faculty may call Student Health Services at (828) 262-3100 to verify the day and time the student was seen. The nature of the student's illness or problem will not be divulged unless the student has signed the appropriate release of medical information.

References:

1. <http://facultyhandbook.appstate.edu/sites/facultyhandbook.appstate.edu/files/Faculty%20Handbook%20140813.pdf>, Faculty Handbook revised 2014, section 6.3.1.5, page 88, accessed 3 June 2015
2. http://www.registrar.appstate.edu/catalogs/14_15_undergrad/undergraduatebulletin14-15.pdf, page 45, accessed 3 June 2015